

READ ME

This directory is shared to encourage all to hear the music and words of the psalms and other parts of the Hebrew Scripture.

The ancient text is a coded musical score. This directory has proven the case. I have written a computer program to read and transcribe each section of Scripture into a Music XML file. These files include the original Hebrew, a transcribed lyric line and all the notes implied by the accents according to the theory of Suzanne Haik-Vantoura. This transcription makes parsing the text and understanding the accents transparent. The ancients thought predictably and musically. Please feel free to share in this project. Let me know of your interest by commenting on the blog <http://meafar.blogspot.ca>.

If you want me to produce a particular piece in a particular mode, let me know.

To read the XML files, use a product like Musescore (<https://musescore.org/>).

As of 2015.08.31, all files are available for each chapter of the Hebrew Bible. The XML location is here.
